

WHY DREAM IN A BATH, WHEN YOU CAN BATHE IN A DREAM?

Traditional or contemporary, some of the best bathrooms featuring waterproof TVs and hydrotherapy whirlpools can be found on the internet, writes Mary Lee

As the third generation of his family to be in the trade, David Marks, owner of internet based company Bathrooms and Showers, has been a bathroom specialist for over 30 years and knows better than anyone that people's bathroom decor needs have changed vastly over the years. Whereas a plumbed system with hot water was once considered a luxury, requests for waterproof televisions and hydrotherapy whirlpools are now far from uncommon.

Bathrooms and Showers, based in Altrincham, are experts in all bathroom fixtures and fittings from the traditional to the contemporary, and offer the convenience of internet shopping alongside a personal service that is tailored to their customer's requirements.

Offering a variety of ranges from exclusive brands like Royce Morgan, Flaminia and Decotec, to the more bog standard (please excuse the pun!) budget bathroom suites, www.bathroomsandshowers.co.uk have bathrooms and accessories to suit all tastes and budgets.

One of the services that make Bathrooms and Showers stand out from other internet based interiors companies is the special design, supply and fit service, launched by managing director, David Marks. David will personally visit any home within a 30-mile radius of Manchester and, after assessing your bathroom and having a chat with you about your needs, he will create a virtual design for your new custom built, bespoke bathroom. By mixing and matching products from both local and exclusive Italian and French ranges and including specialist products and accessories, liaising with you every step of the way, he can generate a bathroom that is unique to you and that fulfils all of your requests including designer products for independent living, of which David is a specialist.

Amazingly the consultation and the virtual design are totally free of charge with no obligation. Once you are entirely satisfied with the plans and have given the go-ahead to fit the bathroom, David will source all of the products and arrange the fitting of the bathroom. Using only time served tradesmen that are respectful to you home and overseeing and coordinating the whole process from beginning to end, he will eliminate the pressures and stresses that usually go hand in hand with installing a new bathroom.

Bathrooms and Showers are also proud to offer a complete range of products to make the installation of your wet room easy and hassle free, including wet room kits that come with everything you need and that are ready to fit. If you have any special requirements then kits can also be tailor made to your own specifications. Products to complement your wet room are also available, including standard and bespoke screens and LED lighting for floors, walls and ceilings.
